CONSCIOUS DESIGN
INSTITUTE

a reawakening of space

*design that heals

Are you ready to create environments that uplift, heal and inspire? Are you ready to feel the impact that environmental designs with intention can create for you and your clients? Design is not just a tool - design is integral to empowering our lives. When we intentionally harness its impact, we have the ability to transform and direct our experience.

The Intentional Environmental Design Professional Certification is an integrative five day program that merges the technical and creative aspects of interior design with ancient healing modalities.

Students will learn to ideate and execute designs that have a direct and immediate psychological, physical, and energetic effect as well as professional tools and techniques to succeed in design, healing, and Real estate industries.

by the end of this course you will:

- Feel confident executing healthy designs from the ground up - from floor plan design and architectural details, to palette selection, vendor relations, and installation
- Immediately be able to use your knowledge of environmental psychology, green design, visual principles, and Feng Shui for instant, tangible change
- Have a professional language system and practical knowledge to succeed in any industry
- Have opportunities for a new career, additional revenue streams, and other professional expansion
- Create environments that are healing at every level for personal and professional use

MEET

Mary Dennis

*Co-Founder and President Emeritus of The International Feng Shui Guild
Conscious Design Institute Director of Design*

For over 40 years, visionary designer and Feng Shui professional Mary Dennis has created healing designs for residential and corporate spaces. Her life-long passion to understand the person-place connection has taught her that our entire range of emotion and experience can be felt as a result of our surroundings.

Mary Dennis has created a template of intentional design, integrating ancient wisdom with modern advancement, that is simple to follow and implement regardless of experience. Her purposeful innovations and research in design psychology and the significance of our surroundings have helped hundreds of clients and students across the world.

Mary Dennis developed the IEDC Program after decades of experience to integrate her tried and true methods into a valuable course enriching for all students and is pleased to offer it through The Institute.

A HOLISTIC DESIGN PERSPECTIVE

Pillars of Healthy Space

Our surroundings can support our wellbeing or deplete our energy, and today when our homes have become integral spaces of regeneration and support in our lives, it is more important than ever to learn healthy principles for balance, health, and harmony.

We feel the three aspects of building healthy space are:

01

Visual Design and Environmental Psychology

Everything from color and light to shapes and materials affect us psychologically and physically. By understanding how various visual design aspects are experienced in the brain and body, we can intentionally harness the positive effects.

Feng Shui, Healing Modalities, and Intentional Design

This course is based in the natural, behavioral, and physical sciences, and energy is the essential ingredient. When we seek to understand the unseen forces in a space, we can reap profound benefits.

03

Green Design and Use of Sustainable, Healthy Materials

Green design and sustainable practices give us the empowering knowledge to create healthy spaces from the ground up, utilizing materials that are sustainably and ethically sourced, as well as healthy for humans and animals.

A NOTE FROM THE INSTITUTE FOUNDER

The Conscious Design Institute is proud and excited to offer the IIRC Professional Certification and warmly welcomes Mary Dennis as the Institute's Director of Design. With an extensive background in Feng Shui, interior design, and healing modalities, she brings her rich wisdom to empower students around the world.

I had the privilege of taking the program myself a few years ago and it was a profound experience for me. Though I had worked on many homes and buildings throughout my career, the IEDC nurtured my confidence to illicit even greater change for my clients and self. My greatest joy was to re-design a 3-story office building - saving the historic building from eminent domain.

My personal experience made me certain that Mary Dennis' incredible course belonged at The Institute as a signature program. I highly recommend it for both personal and professional knowledge.

Testimonials

WHAT PAST STUDENTS ARE SAYING

Wonderful evolving and transformational experience. Well worth the investment!

- Sherry Ways, OM

I could not have predicted how terrific this program would be. Beyond the information – which is prodigious – MD's energy and teaching style made it a valuable and inspirational education, which is sure to accelerate both my professional and personal life.

- Nurit Schwarzbaum, Get Organized for Good!

The 5 Day Redesign program was all that I thought it would be and then some. Mary's manual for the class is so comprehensive you won't need to purchase another Feng Shui book. The class broke down barriers in my approach to Feng Shui and how I analyze and design a space. MD invites you to step out of the box and take your practice to the next level. Her class is definitely worth the investment.

- Lisa Doyle

Mix equal parts of love, professionalism, wisdom, experience and humor and you get Mary Dennis. What a deal, what a joy!! Thank you.

- Wendy West

Mary Dennis is a magnificent embodiment of Divine Chi! As a teacher, she gives from her heart, with crystal clarity. I am infinitely grateful for this experience. This course encompassed a tremendous amount of very useable material. I am excited about all that I have learned and the path of learning that will continue to move forward.

- Alisa Rose Seidlitz, Optimal Environments Indoors & Out

I was delighted to learn that, by following the template, I could design a room. I was also amazed at how simply, clearly, directly and compassionately Mary Dennis responds to client questions. A great model to follow.

- Rosalie Prinzivalli, Chair, International Feng Shui Guild
